

POLLOCK FINISHES

MKT-0006, REV A

Colorful, imaginative, and artistic: Our Pollock Finishes embrace creative patterns. By emulating the drip-paint technique developed by Jackson Pollock, the finish's namesake, our traditional shades adopt a truly unique appearance. To create these vivid designs, porcelain enamel is artfully dripped and spread onto a steel shade. The shade takes a trip through a high temperature oven, where the porcelain and steel are bonded together permanently. This entire process is repeated with each subsequent color until the pattern is complete. Because each Pollock Finish is made by hand, variations may occur between shades.
